Big Cypress Sam #29

July Newsletter

How many languages can we say “hot” in? Well I think we covered them all when the Big Cypress Sam Club headed for Cypress Lakes the third weekend of July. Thursday and Friday seemed to be sweltering, but we got relief on Friday afternoon when the skies opened up with a downpour and cooled us off. It was cool enough that we could sit outside and play games in the evening. We all enjoyed the wonderful breezes that were blowing that night. Our thoughts were turned several times to “Ed stories” and we all agreed that we will miss him a lot and our thoughts and prayers are with Regenia. We missed her not being with us. We had eight rigs present and James Newton came up and had dinner with us on Saturday. We added another rig to our membership with the acceptance of Russ and JoAnn Wireman. We really have enjoyed getting to know them, and are looking forward to many happy camping experiences. This month we also had David and Frances Green, along with their grandson Jake visit with us. They are from Sharon and they have also expressed an interest in joining our group. We keep on growing, and that is good.

Saturday evening we all decided that we would head for the local eatery instead of our usual dinner outside. James came up and joined us, and then we headed back to camp and while the guys were outside discussing the world situation, the ladies were inside at the Weber’s enjoying each other’s company and conversation. Next month we are headed for Columbus-Belmont State Park. The Ron Gatewood’s and the Ketterman’s are our hosts. The summer seems to be going by quickly, and before long we will be putting the rigs away. But not just yet! (You’re right - the pictures are from Pin Oak!)

Happy Birthday to Sam Stockton who celebrated on the 9th.
